

General Introduction to Sangharakshita's Seminars

Hidden Treasure

From the mid-seventies through to the mid-eighties, Urgyen Sangharakshita led many seminars on a wide range of texts for invited groups of Order members and Mitrās. These seminars were highly formative for the FWBO/Tiratna as Sangharakshita opened up for the still very young community what it might mean to live a life in the Dharma.

The seminars were all recorded and later transcribed. Some of these transcriptions have been carefully checked and edited and are now available in book form. However, a great deal of material has so far remained unchecked and unedited and we want to make it available to people who wish to deepen their understanding of Sangharakshita's presentation of the Dharma.

How should one approach reading a seminar transcription from so long ago? Maybe the first thing to do is to vividly imagine the context. What year is it? Who is present? We then step into a world in which Sangharakshita is directly communicating the Dharma. Sometimes he is explaining a text, at other times he is responding to questions and we can see how the emergence of Dharma teachings in this context was a collaborative process, the teaching being drawn out by the questions people asked. Sometimes those questions were less to do with the text and arose more from the contemporary situation of the emerging new Buddhist movement.

Reading through the transcripts can be a bit like working as a miner, sifting through silt and rubble to find the real jewels. Sometimes the discussion is just a bit dull. Sometimes we see Sangharakshita trying to engage with the confusion of ideas many of us brought to Buddhism, confusion which can be reflected in the texts themselves. With brilliant flashes of clarity and understanding, we see him giving teachings in response that have since become an integral part of the Tiratna Dharma landscape.

Not all Sangharakshita's ways of seeing things are palatable to modern tastes and outlook. At times some of the views captured in these transcripts express attitudes and ideas Tiratna has acknowledged as unhelpful and which form no part of our teaching today. In encountering all of the ideas contained in over seventeen million words of Dharma investigation and exchange, we are each challenged to test what is said in the fire of our own practice and experience; and to talk over 'knotty points' with friends and teachers to better clarify our own understanding and, where we wish to, to decide to disagree.

We hope that over the next years more seminars will be checked and edited for a wider readership. In the meantime we hope that what you find here will inspire, stimulate, encourage - and challenge you in your practice of the Dharma and in understanding more deeply the approach of Urgyen Sangharakshita.

- 85 The English way of doing things is not the only way!
One mustn't underestimate the basic intelligence of people
- 91 The 'bogey' of professionalism
- 93 Nationality
- 94 Bhante's impressions of the UK after his return from the USA in 1970
Differences between the UK and the rest of the continent of Europe
- 96 Political change and personal/spiritual change
- 97 English compromise
- 100 Recommendation to spend some time outside ones home country
working on Dharma activities
What is English-ness?
- 102 Language as an aspect of national conditioning
- 104 'Segregation' of the sexes within the Order?
- 106 Having separate retreats for men and women Order members?
- 107 Bhante's original assumption that the Order would be a mixed (men and women) Order and that all activities would be mixed
Are 'the women' missing something if they're not where 'the men' are?
- 111 "The women are going to feel that they're being put to one side for some time"
- 112 Avoiding sexual games
Practical difficulties of this Convention - not enough space for all to meet/eat/meditate together, separate accommodation, the women feeling 'dumped'
- 118 Visualisation and mantra recitation practice in the Order
- 121 How important is it to practise one's visualisation and mantra recitation daily?
- 122 When on retreat should Order members necessarily do the same meditation practice as others are doing?
The Order Metta Bhavana
Being together in the Order in spirit when physically separated
- 124 What is the karmic level?
- 126 Ensuring certain Order members are very well versed in each visualisation practice so that it can be passed on when Bhante is gone
Developing our own iconography
- 127 Trying to introduce the eleven headed, thousand armed Avalokiteshvara more into the Movement. As a symbol of the Order itself
- The four main functions (or four great Tantric rites) of Buddhahood: To pacify; to fascinate; to mature; to destroy
- 129 The dedication of Sukhavati
Placing mantras and sacred texts and verses inside the Buddha image
- 132 Qualifications for Upasaka/Upasika ordination and Mitraship
What makes somebody ready for ordination?
- 137 The difference between devotion and commitment
Is it harder for women to commit themselves than men?
- 138 Bhaktas - devotees
Sishas - pupils or disciples
- 139 Can 'young' people be really committed? The seven year old Arahants
The difficulties of commitment when 'older'
Meeting on a common basis of commitment, rather than of age etc., etc.
- 143 The phrase of Bhante's, "If someone's nearly ready for ordination then they're ready"!
- 145 It is not an ideal to have the majority of Order members involved with organisational work of Centres
Qualifications for Mitraship
- 148 Are Mitras a 'servant class'?! A wonderful opportunity to serve
- 149 The teacher looking after the pupil if the pupil is sick
- 150 Do all Mitras wish to become Order Members? Should they?
Many people are now contacting the Dharma without any knowledge of the possibility of the attainment of Enlightenment.
- 153 Not dampening enthusiasm
What is a Buddhist Centre?
Qualifications for being a Kalyana Mitra
Does the Kalyana Mitra relationship finish with ordination?
How long after ordination, ideally, can an Order member become a Kalyana Mitra?
- 159 Report from the Convenor of Men Mitras
Seventy Seven Mitras worldwide in 1976
- 163 Avoiding the phrase 'it has been decided'. Say who decided instead
Report from the acting Convenor of Women Mitras
- 165 Trying to have Kalyana Mitras of the same sex
General Mitras

- 166 Can people who are not Mitras be ordained?
Honorary Mitras
- 172 The importance of having two Kalyana Mitras
Bhante's comments on points raised in 'Shabda'
- 173 The importance of remembering what it is like to be a beginner:
"Beginner's Mind"
- 174 Leading communication classes
- 178 Taking responsibility for what one thinks and not hiding behind a group.
Using Bhante's name to make something more acceptable
- 180 Keeping to the point and not discussing/disputing someone's motive
Clear reporting of Order events in Shabda
- 182 Authority and authoritarianism
- 183 All Order members are equal in an Order meeting, irrespective of their position in any body outside the meeting, i.e. Chairman etc.; their degree of articulateness
- 185 Speaking one's mind is not necessarily being authoritarian.
- 186 It's impossible for one Order member to bully another
Power and authority
- 187 Overuse of the word 'role'
- 188 "Your power should be the function of your being"
- 191 Bhante is the person to inform anybody that they are to be ordained
- 192 Vows for Order members
- 193 No vow is taken forever
- 194 Bodhisattva vows as very specific forms of the Bodhicitta
Having others witness the taking of a vow
- 197 'Degrees of ordination' are degrees of vow - the Maha Upasaka/Upasika
The uniqueness of the original Going for Refuge
- 198 Mitras taking vows
Give things up 'in innocence', not out of guilt
- 199 Marriage within the context of the Order as a particular kind of vow
The Bengali ceremony to give up one's child at the age of sixteen
Having a divorce ceremony
- 200 Monogamy, polygamy, polyandry, in Buddhism
- 201 A ceremony to reaffirm one's Going for Refuge/ordination
The Buddha permitted re-ordination up to seven times
- 203 The need for some people to look after themselves better
Arrangements for producing the Convention report
Plans for the tenth anniversary of the FWBO
