

General Introduction to Sangharakshita's Seminars

Hidden Treasure

From the mid-seventies through to the mid-eighties, Urgyen Sangharakshita led many seminars on a wide range of texts for invited groups of Order members and Mitrās. These seminars were highly formative for the FWBO/Triratna as Sangharakshita opened up for the still very young community what it might mean to live a life in the Dharma.

The seminars were all recorded and later transcribed. Some of these transcriptions have been carefully checked and edited and are now available in book form. However, a great deal of material has so far remained unchecked and unedited and we want to make it available to people who wish to deepen their understanding of Sangharakshita's presentation of the Dharma.

How should one approach reading a seminar transcription from so long ago? Maybe the first thing to do is to vividly imagine the context. What year is it? Who is present? We then step into a world in which Sangharakshita is directly communicating the Dharma. Sometimes he is explaining a text, at other times he is responding to questions and we can see how the emergence of Dharma teachings in this context was a collaborative process, the teaching being drawn out by the questions people asked. Sometimes those questions were less to do with the text and arose more from the contemporary situation of the emerging new Buddhist movement.

Reading through the transcripts can be a bit like working as a miner, sifting through silt and rubble to find the real jewels. Sometimes the discussion is just a bit dull. Sometimes we see Sangharakshita trying to engage with the confusion of ideas many of us brought to Buddhism, confusion which can be reflected in the texts themselves. With brilliant flashes of clarity and understanding, we see him giving teachings in response that have since become an integral part of the Triratna Dharma landscape.

Not all Sangharakshita's ways of seeing things are palatable to modern tastes and outlook. At times some of the views captured in these transcripts express attitudes and ideas Triratna has acknowledged as unhelpful and which form no part of our teaching today. In encountering all of the ideas contained in over seventeen million words of Dharma investigation and exchange, we are each challenged to test what is said in the fire of our own practice and experience; and to talk over 'knotty points' with friends and teachers to better clarify our own understanding and, where we wish to, to decide to disagree.

We hope that over the next years more seminars will be checked and edited for a wider readership. In the meantime we hope that what you find here will inspire, stimulate, encourage - and challenge you in your practice of the Dharma and in understanding more deeply the approach of Urgyen Sangharakshita.

227 Attachments and dependencies in the spectrum of human relationships.
228 Distinction between attitudes of 'won't' and 'can't'
Attitudes behind our excuses
229 How we doubly bind ourselves in restricting situations
230 Recidivism - attachment to 'maximum security' of prison.
231 SECTION 25 - "Of all longings and desires there is none stronger than sex'. - (i.e. worldly desires)
Male/female polarity as the paradigm of subject/object duality.
- 232 Alienation - sense of deficiency at core or our being 233 Two kinds of attraction - attraction to opposing opposites and attraction to complementary opposites -reactive 'and' creative' modes.
234 Overcoming duality in 'universal oneness' - see text) is not merging in a metaphysical, monistic, all-is-one unity
- 234-241 SECTION 26 Neurotic clinging brings suffering - 'asubbhava' - contemplation of the loathsomeness of the body etc. - Questions this as a helpful practice.
236 The psychological method - develop in oneself the attractive qualities one sees in the other.
237 Aversion techniques - are they really successful?
239-241 Importance of spiritual friendship - enjoyment of community life etc.
SECTION 27 - see text) - 'Those who follow'the Way' are like a piece of wood etc....',
